Re: In re Motorola Securities Litigation, No. 03 C 287

Dear Judge Pallmeyer:

Professor Antonio Pagnamenta is an absent member of the Plaintiff Class. Before the settlement, he was scheduled to be a witness at trial, and he was deposed by defense counsel.

He is out of the country, and has asked us to transmit to the Court the enclosed request for compensation from the Class Fund. We are not acting as his attorneys in this regard, but are merely transmitting his letter as a courtesy to him due to his absence from the country.

Respectfully,

Fay Clayton

In Re Motorola Securities Litigation

No. 03 C 00287

Munich, Germany 08.10.2007

Your Honorable Judge Pallmeyer,

as a member of the Class, I have carefully considered the entire situation, and then agreed to be a witness out of conviction that this was the right thing to do. I never expected any award for this.

Only now, I have heard that you have awarded some money to the Class member witnesses for their efforts.

I am pleasantly surprised, but now please allow me to draw your attention to my special situation:

I was travelling by CTA to my first interview at Fay Clayton's law office. I passed out and had a Fall on the CTA station. In this I suffered considerable injuries to the right side of my face. Specifically, three teeth on my right side needed to get root canal work, in the amount of approx. $6000.

Medicare essentially covered my emergency and medical cost. However, my dental work was referred to my dental insurance, which only covered $2000. These are approx. numbers, the exact amounts will be documented.

As I suffered these injuries because of my willingness to testify, I would not have had the accident if I had not gone to the law office. The doctors found no basic reason for this sudden fainting spell. I would appreciate it very much if the court could consider to reimburse me for my own out-of-pocket expenses of approx. $4000.

The accident, the injuries, the expenses, all can be documented as soon as I am back in Chicago, within 10 days.

Respectfully submitted,

Antonio Pagnamenta
Professor of Physics, emeritus

PS: Because I am in Europe, I am sending this per e-mail to the law offices of Mrs. Fay Clayton with my request to forward this to you.
